

Matt Chung

- I write about digital organization on The Digital Organization Newsletter and software development over at Matt Chung Blog
- I previously worked as a software engineer at Amazon Web Services (AWS) building Domain Name Services (DNS) and Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) and now run a software consulting company: Crossbill
- I hold a BS in Information Systems from California State University of Northridge and a masters in computer science from Georgia Institute of Technology
- I have a pipe dream of pursuing a PhD in Computer Science
